DALLAS MINERAL BUYERS

Southbound Feast

"From the markets of Merida to the table in Dallas."

□

Join us for the third year of the DMB Club dinner series — an intimate evening built around cuisine that has been passed down through generations, carried in the hands of two sisters from Merida who have spent their lives keeping it alive.

Elidé and Delfina Castillo are the founders of Semilla de Dioses — Seed of Gods — a family cooperative born in 1996 from a handful of pumpkin seeds and a mother's recipe. Their condiments, spices, and techniques are sought out by the world's most celebrated kitchens, from Noma to Quintonil.

Good food, good people, good conversation. That's what this evening is about.

Space is limited. RSVP to reserve your seat at the table.

DOS HERMANAS

Sisters of Merida

Elidé Castillo

FOUNDER · SEMILLA DE DIOSES

Maria Elidé began selling her mother's achiote paste door to door in Motul, Yucatan in 1996. She founded Semilla de Dioses — now supplying Michelin-starred kitchens worldwide. Her recados, sikil pak and cochinita pibil are the most authentic expression of Mayan gastronomy.

□

Delfina Castillo

CO-FOUNDER · SOUS CHEF

Delfina joined her sister in 2008 as the official sous chef. Together they have cooked at Fonda San Miguel in Austin, trained chefs like Rene Redzepi and Jorge Vallejo, and won Empresa Exitosa a Nivel Nacional — carrying forward flavors that stretch back centuries.
